

Cumberland County Library System Foundation Names Terry Reilly, Facilities Manager at Cleve J. Fredricksen Public Library, Library System October 2022 Employee of the Month

Mechanicsburg, Pa.—Mr. Terry Reilly, Facilities Manager at Cleve J. Fredricksen Public Library, has been named the October 2022 Employee of the Month by the Cumberland County Library System Foundation. Terry was nominated by his executive director, Jessica R. Miller.

Terry has an amazing dedication to Fredricksen Library. He answers the calls that come in the middle of the night, even while he is on vacation. "I am a new Director, and started shortly before bad weather could be expected to hit," Miller writes. "Terry assured me that if I had any concerns about whether to open the library, he would be willing to drive over to the parking lot at 5:30 in the morning and check on the conditions. This past year, I have received quite a few calls from him to check on things before anyone else was even up."

One example of Terry's dedication happened while he was on vacation at the shore and there was a minor flood in the children's bathroom. He walked staffers through finding the shut off valve, and then offered to contact the plumbers from his vacation spot. Terry is also protective of the staff, and offers to come over if we ever have a problem with patrons. He is often seen at public events assisting with concerts on the lawn, driving a forklift at the annual blueberry sale, or ensuring rooms are set up and available for programs.

Library Director Miller concludes her nomination with, "If I ever need something for the library, I know that Terry is willing to go above and beyond to help us."
